Once again this year's Fiendsdale Fell Race became a complex affair due to access issues. We had to negotiate a new route to avoid sensitive areas on the original course. Natural England and the land-owners are now limiting the number of runners in all the races in the Bowland Fells around Chipping and there are already indications that next year will be just as difficult. As for the race, just 70 runners set off on the new, shortened route. At just under 6.5 miles and with 2,400 feet of climbing it turned out to be very tough but popular with all runners. Mike Johnson from local club Bowland Fell Runners just held off Andy Brown of Clayton to win in 58:59. Lauren Jeska of Todmorden easily won the ladies race by 10 minutes to finish an impressive 8th overall. Thanks go to all members of Bowland Fell Runners for their assistance on the day and to the Pennine and Bowland Mountain Rescue for their presence on the fells, which gives added security to all. Proceeds from the race go to the Mountain Rescue Team.
